

Application No. 10/561,628
Amendment Dated 4/20/2009
Reply to Office Action of 10/21/2008

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph at page 1, lines 27-29, with the following rewritten paragraph:

-- This object is achieved by a process for the generation of cells producing pancreatic hormone, comprising a cultivation and differentiation of stem cells obtained from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism having the features of Claim 1, a cell having the features of Claim 22 an isolated cell producing pancreatic hormone, the cell having been generated from a stem cell that was isolated from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism and a cell composition cellular composition containing a plurality of cells producing pancreatic hormone, the cell having been generated from a stem cell that was isolated from differentiated exocrine glandular tissue of an organism, wherein the cell is a human cell having the features of Claim 24. Advantageous embodiments and applications are derived from the dependent claims. --.